Rampion Punzel

A rabbit with anger management issues . . .

As the only girl in a family of thirty-three, Rampion had to get tough, fast. Often quick to anger, and never one to think a problem through when smashing people's heads together is much easier and far more fun, she is the wildest and bravest creature in the whole of Beamfleit.

Just don't call her a bunny. Ever. She'll bite your knees off before you get to the second N.
